This Weeks Headlines

- This week in reading, we read the story "Greg's Mask". In this story, we learned about our feelings, and how they can be hurt. We also practiced more blends and how when we read them they make one sound. To reinforce this story, we made masks during center time.
- We are still working on memorizing our subtraction facts. We have learned our subtraction facts from 12. This week we worked on our facts in the computer lab and we had math relay races. These are both good ways to reinforce the facts and help practice them.
- We will begin our DOL tests on Monday. These tests will help make up the English grade for the 2nd quarter. Please practice at home. One good way to practice is to write the sentence with the errors, and have your child fix them with a colored pencil. We do these sentences 3 times a week, and they do a great job in class of finding the errors!
