This Weeks Headlines

- This week in reading, we read the story "Quack". This story introduced us to the /ck/ sound. We practiced this sound by chanting it and dancing it in class.
- Our spelling words this week, had both the /ck/ sound and short /a/ sound. It was a great way to remember last week's lesson, and incorporate this weeks.
- In math, we have been practicing writing our numbers from 1-10 correctly. We've also been reviewing the spelling of our numbers words and reading them. This week, we also talked about one fewer and one more. We used unifix cubes in class to strengthen this skill.
- There was no school on Monday because of Labor Day. We talked several times in class about different jobs and what people would need to complete them. My whole class has so many different career dreams.
